STEWART IS CHOSEN

Nominated for Governor on First Ballot by Republican Convention.

MADE UNANIMOUS

CANDIDATE DECLARES HIS POSITION AMID SCENE OF ENTHUSIASM—BENT FOR STATE TREASURER.

DENVER, Sept. 14.—Amid a scene of the wildest enthusiasm in the Broadway theater, its galleries packed to the dome, Philip B. Stewart of Colorado Springs was today nominated for governor on the first ballot by the Republican state convention.

The convention was perhaps the most enthusiastic of any state gathering yet held in Colorado, and was remarkable for the brilliant speeches made during the early part of the proceedings and for the full attendance of delegates from every section of the state.

John Holmberg of Denver and George W. Swink of Rocky Ford were contestants with Mr. Stewart for the nomination of governor. The vote stood: Stewart, 558; Holmberg, 161; Swink, 127; McDonald, 38.

Brooks Made Chairman.

The convention was not called to order until 11:10 o'clock, when State Chairman Fairley sounded the gavel. He called upon Rev. Lucas of Denver for prayer. When this was concluded the band played "The Star Spangled Banner," and Chairman Fairley then directed the secretary to read the call. This was done, and Senator Fred W. Parks was recognized. He nominated Congressman Franklin E. Brooks of El Paso county for temporary chairman. Murrell Vincent of Delta county presented the name of W. W. Story of Ouray county. He said that Story was not on the state ticket and could be induced to accept such a place. The speaker declared against slates and advised the delegates to be independent and name officers of the convention without taking into consideration the wishes of those who desired only to serve personal ends. Richard Broad of Jefferson county seconded Brooks' nomination. El Paso county did the same. A voice in the rear of the room shouted "We want to break it, Story." All over the hall came shouts of "Story." Roll call was ordered by the chair.

The vote stood: Brooks, 634; Story, 346.

The chair appointed Parks, Carpenter and Story to escort the temporary chairman to the platform.

Mr. Brooks began his address by thanking his friends in Colorado for their friendship and loyal support during his career as a public servant. This was appropriate, he said, now that he was retiring to private life. He also thanked the Republican organization of the state, and particularly Chairman Fairley, who had devoted himself most unselfishly to the interest and the success of the party in the state.

Fifty Years' History.

Mr. Brooks then traced the history of the Republican party since the organization fifty years ago. He declared that Republican success was a guaranty of prosperity to the country, and that the reverse was true when the Republican party was temporarily suffering defeat. The speaker ridiculed the Democratic party as it is today, declaring that it represented nothing sane or possible. When he reached the subject of the state administration, Mr. Brooks gave complete indorsement of Governor McDonald. He said that the Republicans need have no fear of the righteousness of their cause when they were defending the action that made Mr. McDonald governor or were upholding his every act since he became the state's chief executive.

"And whether you choose the doughty Swede (John A. Holmberg) to lead you or McDonald with his broadsword, or Stewart with his lance," said he, "you will be successful and will have no cause for regret."

Samuel H. Wood and C. H. Dagor, both of Denver, were made secretary and assistant secretary respectively of the convention.

George Stidger of Denver moved that the temporary roll call be made permanent. Protests came from delegates from Adams and Archuleta counties, who asked to be allowed to appear before the credentials committee and have their cases heard. An amendment to Stidger's motion was adopted referring the Adams and Archuleta contests to a committee of seven.

Marshall H. Smith of the Eighth precinct of the Twelfth ward of Denver said he had a contest to make also and wanted to be heard. Delegate Parks of Denver raised the point of order that no contest from Denver had been filed and the chair upheld the point, which ruled out Mr. Smith.

Motions were carried for the appointment of committees of 15, consisting of one from each judicial district and two at large, to prepare the platform, report on rules and order of business and on permanent organization. These committees and the committee of seven to consider contests were announced, and the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

This afternoon session of business and permanent organization was adopted and the temporary organization made permanent.

The committee on credentials reported recommending that the prima facie roll call be made the permanent roll call, and this report was adopted.

Nominations for candidates for governor were called for. Rush L. Holland of Colorado Springs was recognized.

HANDCAR LOAD TRACKMEN RUN OFF OPEN DRAW

DOZEN MEN PLUNGE INTO WATERS OF MAUMEE RIVER AND ARE ALL DROWNED.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 14.—A handcar loaded with trackmen of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad ran off an open draw of the Maumee river bridge tonight, and all on the car were drowned. The number of men on the car is said to have been twelve. So far two bodies have been recovered.

Owing to the fact that the men fell with the car from a point some miles from Toledo, identification of the missing men has not been learned. It is also impossible to learn what prompted the fatal ride, for the men, whoever they were, deliberately took the car and were under way.

The men who first saw it in the yards were ordered off the track by Yardmaster Thomas, but the men refused to obey him. In one body recovered was found a letter from Italy. It is thought that most of the men on the car were foreigners.

W. W. Smith, chief clerk to the train dispatcher of the Wheeling, said:

"The men were running without authority, and it is my belief that they stole the car before the bridge. Tomorrow is pay day, and it is just possible that the men came to Toledo to be here when the pay train is made up.

"According to my judgment, there were ten men on the car, as it was well loaded. Some of them were foreigners, but I think there were some Americans. I first noticed them when they were replacing their car after waiting for the incoming passenger train. The yardmaster yelled at them to get off the track, and as they passed the office here the operator notified them of the open draw."

TWO MEN DROWNED IN MOTORBOAT RACE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Two men were drowned in the motorboat races on the Hudson river today. They were J. Ferry and Harry Orlinet, who were in the motorboat Vesuvius. Orlinet was drowned in an attempt to save Ferry.

CORBIN RETIRES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Lieutenant General Henry C. Corbin will be retired at noon tomorrow, having reached the age of 64. General Corbin has had a long military career.

BONYNGE CHOSEN BY ACCLAMATION

NOMINATED REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT BY CONVENTION.

DENVER, Sept. 14.—Robert W. Bonynge was nominated as the Republican candidate for the First congressional district by the convention this afternoon. The nomination was made by acclamation.

Governor Jesse McDonald was elected temporary and permanent chairman of the convention, and H. W. Harmon was elected temporary and permanent secretary. George W. Allen, who called the convention to order, was elected chairman of the congressional committee for the ensuing year.

A resolution commending Mr. Bonynge for the stand he took on the railroad rate bill and other matters of importance which were acted on during the last session of congress was unanimously adopted. It also commended for its experience of executive affairs in Colorado, and temporarily gave the office of congressman for the First district to John F. Shafroth.

Mr. Bonynge thanked the delegates for their renewed confidence in him and said that he would do all in his power, if elected, to make himself worthy of their trust.

FULL POWER IS GRANTED PALMA TO CONTINUE WAR

SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS CALLED BY CUBA'S PRESIDENT COMPLETES ITS BUSINESS.

HAVANA, Sept. 14.—The special session of congress called by President Palma completed at one sitting the business for which it was summoned, namely, granting to President Palma the full constitutional authority provided for carrying on the war, including the right to appropriate any public funds for war purposes, revoking appropriations voted at the preceding session of congress in order to permit the diversion of the money levied for conservation of the war, and authorizing the issue of the total guards [illegible] and the artillery to 2,000 men.

President Palma submitted a brief message, principally devoted to deploring the conduct of the opposition, which he charged with the responsibility of causing the war.

President Palma charges his political opponents with having, ever since the opening of the last election campaign, tended to incite the people to rise against the government, rather than to organize effectively for the contest for votes at the next election, as was being done since the people who were accustomed to exercise of the boons of liberty.

The message sketched the events of the revolution, the imprisonment of alleged conspirators and the inadequacy of the military force, and said it would not be discreet to send more soldiers from Havana.

ATTEMPT HOLDUP ON ROCK ISLAND

FOUR MASKED MEN STOP TRAIN NEAR PEORIA, ILL.—CONDUCTOR PREVENTS ROBBERY.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 14.—Four masked men attempted to hold up passenger train No. 31 of the Rock Island one mile and a half north of Peoria tonight at 10 o'clock, and but for the presence of mind of Conductor Murray, who disarmed one of the men after being struck on the head, the passengers would have been robbed. There were about 100 persons on the train, which left Chicago at [illegible] o'clock. Sheriff Potter and a force of deputies and Peoria police are searching the woods near the scene.

The would-be robbers placed an obstruction of railroad ties on the track and brought the train to a stop. They then, at the point of revolvers, commanded the engineer and fireman to remain in the cab. Running back to the [illegible] the smoker, they confronted the place with drawn revolvers. Conductor Murray met them at the door. One of the bandits rushed [illegible] and struck [illegible] a blow in his face. He struck over the head with a club, [illegible] robber became alarmed and fled. The bandits were [illegible] evidently were amateurs at the business.

PANIC CAUSED BY DAUGHTER OF PRESIDENT

EAGERNESS TO SEE MRS. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH CAUSES STAMPEDE.

EXERCISES AT DEDICATION OF M'KINLEY MONUMENT AT COLUMBUS SUDDENLY TERMINATED.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14.—[illegible] threatened [illegible] estimated at 25,000 people became alarmed [illegible] the stand erected in Memorial grounds, fragments of [illegible] of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the president's daughter, [illegible] and the dedication of the McKinley monument [illegible] suddenly terminated. The disturbance [illegible] the name of the martyred President had been barely uttered by Mrs. Longworth.

The prominent people on the speakers' platform were [illegible] as [illegible] for the [illegible] the grand central [illegible] women and children were trampled in the crush, and [illegible] the crowd into a frenzy. Many women fainted and were carried out of the crowd by the police. Two were so badly hurt that they had to be carried in a ambulance. Both will recover.

Throughout the [illegible] Mrs. Longworth remained cool and self-possessed, but afterward she said:

"It was the worst crush I ever witnessed. I have seen nothing like it in my trip around the world."

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth had an exciting experience in escaping from the crowd at the capitol. From the speakers' stand they went through a window overlooking the platform into the governor's office, but they were scarcely inside when the people began to surge through the doors. Then they attempted to reach an automobile which was waiting for them on the street, but once outside they were caught in a surging crowd. Finding no immediate avenue of escape they fought their way out of the capitol grounds and across Broad street into the Outlook building. There they remained until a carriage was secured and the police cleared a way to it, and they were driven to the hotel Hartman. Later they took a train for Cincinnati.

C. P. DODGE WINS

AGAIN—LAWN TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP AND GETS PERMANENT POSSESSION OF CUP.

Clarence P. Dodge, of Colorado Springs, yesterday afternoon again demonstrated the fact that he is the best tennis player in the state by defeating Farrington of Denver, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, thereby successfully defending the championship at the Rocky Mountain tournament at Denver and securing permanent possession of the cup, which he has won three consecutive times. Farrington beat Kernochan of this city in the final finals, but was no match for Dodge, who showed up in fine form. The match was replete with brilliant plays. Kernochan was defeated by Farrington at 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, in the finals for the singles.

Today the doubles will be finished. Dodge and Kernochan will meet the Graham brothers of Denver for the doubles championship.

Mr. Dodge will bring the cup which he won to Colorado Springs when he returns home. On the cup are inscribed ten or twelve names, those of winners in previous years.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED DURING VIOLENT STORM

LIGHTNING CAUSES DEATH OF THREE THRESHERS—TORNADO DESTROYS SCHOOL HOUSE.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Sept. 14.—Two violent and seemingly distinct storms visited Johnson county this afternoon resulting in the death of four persons, fatal injuries to two and painful injuries to five others.

The dead:

O. A. GIEL, aged 48, leaves wife and five children.

AUGUST ZEMAN, 45, leaves wife and three children.

ROY CARMINE, boy of 17.

GEORGE KOEHLER, school boy of [illegible].

The first three were killed by lightning near the town of Elm Creek. A party of threshers were at work on the farm of Henry Walthers, when a rain and electric storm came up. Four of the men crawled under the threshing machine, which was shattered by a lightning bolt, and the three instantly killed. Henry Walthers, Jr., was badly shocked and burned but will probably recover.

The second storm, a tornado in violence, swept over a country district ten miles west of Tecumseh, demolishing a school house, killing the Kaehler boy, fatally injuring two other school children, names unknown, and inflicting severe injuries on four others in the school house. Many barns and windmills were blown down, but there have been no further reports of deaths or injuries.

There was a very heavy fall of rain all over the country.

ORGANIZED FOR FALL CAMPAIGN

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION RE-ELECTS MILTON SMITH OF DENVER AS CHAIRMAN.

DENVER, Sept. 14.—With the reelection of Milton Smith of Denver chairman, the Democratic state convention organized for the fall campaign today. A feature of the meeting was the choice of Julius Aichele of Denver as vice chairman of the committee. Aichele was one of the men thrown out of the state convention because of their allegiance to the Denver utility corporations. Chairman Smith was authorized to appoint a secretary of the committee, as Thomas H. Tulley of Durango, who has held the position for several years, declined to serve again.

An important feature of the meeting was the amending of the by-laws in conformity with a resolution adopted at the state convention so as to give the women equal representation on the committee.

In the counties where the Democrats have not yet held their conventions, a woman member of the committee will be selected at the same time the male member is chosen. In the counties that have held their conventions, the officers of the organization will recommend a woman to State Chairman Smith, and the appointment will then be made by him.

GUESTS JUMP FROM WINDOWS TO ESCAPE FIRE

SEVERAL BELIEVED TO BE DEAD AND MANY ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN HOTEL FIRE.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 14.—The Gilmour hotel, on Bank street, was destroyed by fire late tonight. Many of the guests jumped from windows and were seriously injured. Up to midnight several had not been accounted for, and it is feared that some lives were lost. The hotel was crowded with visitors to the industrial exposition. Some of the guests were sleeping on cots in the hallways.

The fire spread with great rapidity, flames by the stairways had been cut off before some of the guests were aroused.

At 1 a. m. the fire was under control and was confined to the hotel.

The hospital reports the following cases of injured:

Mrs. E. D. Rutherworth, Ottawa, badly burned.

Mrs. De Garry, Galt, Ont., severely burned.

J. T. Walker, Mellicahill, N. J., both legs broken.

Mrs. Robert Pentecost, Toronto, both legs broken.

T. S. Smith, Montreal, severely injured and burned.

FEARS PURSUERS ARMED WITH RED-HOT IRONS

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—The jury in the county court today adjudged Oscar Olson insane. Olson had the hallucination that people were pursuing him with a red-hot iron to burn his legs. In order to save his clothing from his pursuers, he had hidden it. When arrested by the officers, yesterday, he had neither hat, shoes nor shirt, and only a jumper and a pair of overalls covered his frame. Olson has lived in the Cripple Creek district for ten years; is 36 years of age and single. He is a native of Sweden, and left an estate of $500. For the past three years Olson had been employed by the Eagle sampler.

TICKET NAMED NEXT WEEK.

DENVER, Sept. 14.—The Denver Democratic county and judicial ticket will not be named until one week from tomorrow. The delegates to the county convention assembled today at the Democratic club, but adjourned almost immediately upon the recommendation of Senator Patterson.

KING'S TELEGRAM IS NOT GENUINE

MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY FROM KING EDWARD TO WIDOW OF GENERAL MIN, A FORGERY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 14.—Diplomatic and administration circles are greatly exercised over the discovery that a telegram purporting to have been sent by King Edward to the widow of General Min, three days after the assassination of the general at Peterhof, was not genuine. The message was as follows:

"Just overcome by your frightful bereavement, I beg you, Madame, to accept my profound condolences.—Edward."

An investigation is in progress to determine the origin and motive of the telegram. The investigation has been conducted very quietly on account of the effect the disclosure is likely to have upon the royal personages concerned, and so strict an inkling of the matter has reached the press. The motive of the fraud is difficult to conjecture, though a message of sympathy relative to the fate of an agent of [illegible] might not be without effect in [illegible] an international combat as is going on in Russia, or on the movement for an Anglo-Russian entente.

WARNING TO CUBA

Roosevelt Addresses Communication to Senor Quesada.

WILL INVESTIGATE

SECRETARIES TAFT AND BACON WILL GO TO ISLAND SUNDAY TO LEARN CONDITIONS.

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 14.—After a prolonged conference with Secretary of War Taft, Acting Secretary of State Bacon and Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, President Roosevelt tonight addressed an important communication to Cuba and arranged for Secretary Taft and Secretary Bacon to go to that island on Sunday to make a thorough investigation of conditions there and find their influence to restore peace.

The communication is addressed to the Cuban minister of the United States, Senor Quesada. It is an impassioned plea to Cuba to realize her responsibilities as a self-governing republic and to restore peace in the island. Her attention is called in no uncertain language to the responsibility which the United States bears to the island, and the certainty that such responsibility will necessarily be exercised should peace not be preserved.

The president says he has certain information that the peace of the island is now menaced, and that American property has been destroyed. Secretaries Taft and Bacon will leave for Cuba Sunday. They will go by rail to Key West, Florida, and from there their journey to Havana will be completed on a naval vessel.

The conference which resulted in the Cuban decision began at Sagamore Hill shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon and continued until 10 o'clock tonight. At its conclusion Messrs. Taft, Bonaparte and Bacon left for New York and will go to Washington tomorrow. Secretary Taft said he had no idea as to the length of his visit to Cuba. He indicated that there would be no haste in the investigation, which would be thorough. Aside from this information, no discussion will be divulged by those attending the conference. The statement being made that the letter of the president was drawn to cover the whole Cuban situation as far as it was desirable to do so in the public print.

Following is President Roosevelt's letter:

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 14.

My dear Senor Quesada: In this crisis in the affairs of the republic of Cuba I write you not merely because you are the minister of Cuba, accredited to this government, but because you and I were intimately drawn together at the time when the United States intervened in the affairs of Cuba with the result of making her an independent nation. You know how sincere my affection and admiration and regard for Cuba are; you know that I never have done and never shall do anything in reference to Cuba save with such sincere regard for her welfare. You also know the pride I take, because it came to me as president, in withdrawing the American troops from the island of Cuba and officially proclaim her independence and to wish her godspeed in her career as a free republic.

I desire now, through you, to say a word of solemn warning to your people, whose earliest well-wisher I am. For seven years Cuba has been in a condition of profound peace and of steadily growing prosperity. For four years this peace and prosperity have obtained under her own independence. Her peace, prosperity and independence are now menaced, for of all possible evils that can befall Cuba, the worst is the evil of anarchy into which civil war and revolutionary disturbances will assuredly throw her. Whoever is responsible for armed revolution and outrage, whoever is responsible in any way for the condition of affairs that now obtains is an enemy of Cuba, and bears a heavy share of the responsibility of the harm affecting to be the especial damage of Cuba's independence, who knowingly sets about to jeopardize that independence. There is just one way in which Cuban independence can be secured, and that is for the Cuban people to show their ability to continue in their path of peaceful and orderly progress. This nation asks nothing of Cuba save that it shall continue to develop as it has developed during the past seven years, that it shall know and practice the orderly liberty which will assuredly bring an ever-increasing measure of peace and prosperity to the beautiful Queen of the Antilles. Our intervention in Cuban affairs will only come if Cuba herself shows that she has fallen into the insurrectionary habit, that she lacks the self-restraint necessary in peaceful self-government, and that her contending factions have plunged the country into anarchy.

I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together to sink all differences and personal ambitions and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by rescuing it from the anarchy of civil war. I earnestly hope that this word of adjuration of mine, given in the name of the American people, the staunchest friends and well-wishers of Cuba that there are in all the world, will be taken as it is meant, will be seriously considered and will be acted upon and if so acted upon Cuba's permanent independence, her permanent success as a republic, are assured.

Under the treaty with your government, I am president of the United States, have a duty in this matter which I cannot shirk. The Third Article of that treaty explicitly confers upon the United States the right to intervene for the maintenance in Cuba of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty. The treaty conferring this

CENTENNIAL GAME

LOCAL AND EAST DENVER HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS MAY PLAY HERE.

Efforts are being made to arrange for a football game between the Terrors of East Denver High school for Centennial week.

About 25 players were out yesterday afternoon on the High school athletic field, going through practice under the direction of Coach Richards. Captain Morrell, left tackle; Richard Morrison, right tackle; Murphy, full back, and Martin, the Terrors' speedy right half, are the veterans of last year who are out. For quarter, Randolph, Scibird and Siegel are out. Randolph and Scibird played quarter the last two years on the second team. Whitaker, 155 pounds, is trying for left half. He has played on the west side team for several years. Sinton, 165 pounds, and Stovell, 145 pounds, are out for ends. The candidates for guards are Friend, Baynter, Lynn and McNeil. According to Captain Morrell, the team this fall will be faster and better than it was last year.

H. O. Bartels, the Denver Athletic club boy, proved his work again today by winning the 100 yards junior championship, making the time in 1:12 2-5.

WILL HAVE AUDIENCE WITH THE SULTAN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—John G. A. Leishman, the American ambassador, has been notified officially that he will have an audience of the sultan on September 21.

PANIC CAUSED BY THE PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER

had expected an enormous crowd on account of the presence of Mrs. Longworth, but in view of the solemnity of the occasion they believed the crowd would easily be kept in restraint. Under ordinary circumstances, the police arrangements would have been adequate, but the officers found quickly that they were powerless to cope with the crowd.

The exercises were set for 2:30 and began promptly. It was not until the band was playing the overture that the danger of a panic became apparent. Suddenly women in the crowd next to the speakers' stand began to scream for help. Then several women fainted and were carried up to the stand.

Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden rose to deliver the invocation but he spoke only a few sentences when the cries of women forced him to stop. Gen. Harries then attempted to quiet the crowd. The governor's voice could not be heard 20 feet away, however, on account of the noise.

The commotion became so alarming that those on the stand asked Mrs. Longworth to come forward in the hope that a glimpse of her might satisfy the crowd. She came to the front of the stand and it was seen at once that something must be done and it was decided to unveil the statue at once. Mrs. Longworth then pulled the ribbon attached to wires which drew the flags covering the statue aside. The crush was stopped for a few minutes, but it was soon again renewed, and Mrs. Longworth again came to the front of the platform and bowed to the throng. In the meantime, however, the committee on arrangements had decided to defer the addresses until evening at Memorial hall, and as soon as Mrs. Longworth retired, the announcement was made. The people struggling for their lives in the crowd around the stand, cheered, but a storm of hisses came from the people on the outside of the crowd who did not understand the situation. The program of exercises which had been arranged for the unveiling of the monument was carried out at Memorial hall tonight. The immense hall was filled with people. Governor Harris presided.

The speakers were Wm. R. Day, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States; John W. Daniel, United States senator from Virginia; Gen. Joseph McKay of Brooklyn, national commander of the Union Veterans Union, and Gen. R. B. Brown, commander in chief of the Grand Army.

Mrs. McKinley, widow of the late president, was unable to attend the dedication exercises.

INMORE TROUBLE

E. G. ENGLISH IS ARRESTED IN NEW YORK FOR PASSING WOATHLESS CHECK.

Ebert Guy English, formerly lieutenant in the United States army, who married Miss Florence McGovney, daughter of Mrs. Ella E. McGovney of this city, in New York, last January, has been arrested in New York on a charge of passing a worthless check. English was placed under $500 bail.

English had a splendid record for bravery in the Philippine war. He was an officer of scouts under General Lawton, and was twice wounded. After the war he was stationed at Forts Wingate and Apache, in Arizona, later being placed at Fort Logan, near Denver. At the latter fort he was court-martialed on August 28, 1903, charged with falsehood and fraudulent practice in the quartermaster's department. He was given a dishonorable discharge as a penalty.

The ex-lieutenant came to Colorado Springs a year ago last August, being shortly afterward engaged to Miss Florence McGovney, the 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ella E. McGovney, of this city. The couple were married January 1 of this year, at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York.

An amusing incident occurred during English's visit here a year ago last summer. The former army man and his fiancee were seated in a crowded Broadmoor casino car, when a young man, known to both English and Miss McGovney, entered the car and sat near the couple. English accused the young man of traducing him, and reached for his hip pocket. The stranger at once jumped from the car, although the latter was running at full speed, and soon spread the story that English had drawn a revolver on him. When interviewed regarding the incident, English smiled, and producing a large, silver-mounted cigarette case, explained that he did not carry a revolver, and that it was the cigarette case which had caused the trouble.

RIO GRANDE WRECK DELAYS TRAFFIC

Rio Grande passenger train No. 11, which leaves this city for Pueblo and Missouri Pacific connections, at 7:10 o'clock in the evening, was wrecked at Buffes, 21 miles south of Colorado Springs, shortly after 8 o'clock last night. A breaking of the journal, or axle-end, derailed a car and caused a delay of three hours. No passengers were injured.

Passenger train No. 11 is the same which was wrecked at Eden more than a year ago, when almost every passenger on the train was killed.

Charles Rafjeld and Selig Bacharach have gone to Seattle, Wash., where they will engage in business.

WILL ENFORCE LAW AGAINST STARTING PRAIRIE FIRES

With a view to stopping the carelessness of ranchers and travelers in the eastern part of this county, whose careless fires have devastated hundreds of acres of grass, the county commissioners yesterday issued a number of placards setting forth the penalty for starting fires. These placards will be placed throughout the eastern section, and ranchmen have been asked to render all possible assistance in stopping the practice.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

JANE CORCORAN IN "THE FREEDOM OF SUZANNE."

One of the most important engagements of the present theatrical season will be the appearance at the Opera house next Tuesday evening of Jane Corcoran, who will be seen in "The Freedom of Suzanne," a delightful comedy which had a ten weeks' run at the Empire theater, New York city, and which has never yet been seen until now outside of that theater. Arthur C. Alston, Miss Corcoran's manager, has secured the unrestricted rights for the United States and Canada, direct from Charles Frohman. Miss Corcoran has starred for the past two seasons in "Pretty Peggy," and the splendid impression she made in the play is bound to bring out a capacity audience for her when she presents her newer vehicle. The play gives Miss Corcoran excellent opportunities for her comedy abilities. "Suzanne" is a young woman who chafes under the social restraints put upon her by her well-meaning but rather particular husband. If there is anything that Suzanne hates, it is the conventionalities, and, to tell the truth, the young woman does kick over the traces in a manner that gives her better half good cause to lecture her. It is not that Suzanne is bad at heart, but she is peaceful loving and full of mischief, and, while she tells her husband that there is "nothing in it," she is very free with her men friends.

"SQUIRE THOMPKINS' DAUGHTER," AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

"Squire Thompkins' Daughter" is the name of the play to be presented at the Opera house today. They will give two performances, a matinee this afternoon and this evening. Matinee prices, 25 and 50 cents; evening prices, 25, 50, 75 and $1.00. At the first presentation of "Squire Thompkins' Daughter" in a large eastern house the audience was so carried away by their enthusiasm that they arose as one person and called each member of the company before the curtain. While this cast is not the same as those who caused this wonderful show of feeling from the first audience, they are some of the cleverest people in the profession. Adele Vaughn and Arnold Hartness were former members of Frohman's "Palace of the King" company, but joined "Squire Thompkins'" company owing to the fact that love of their profession and not commercialism caused them to prefer a play of this kind in preference to a play of the Tudors. The rest of the cast is also noted for their exquisite interpretations of their different parts.

Digby Bell has always been known as one of the clever men of the stage, and through misfortune in not finding a proper play, he was compelled for years to tumble around in musical comedy. He could not help being good in anything, and so his success in that line kept him there until the great question came before Daniel V. Arthur and Augustus Thomas, owners of "The Education of Mr. Pipp," who was to be cast for Mr. Pipp. The entire list of prominent actors was gone over and the only one who seemed to fit in all phases of the character was Mr. Bell. He has proved the discernment of the managers by making a remarkable hit in one of the quaintest and most difficult characters ever shown on the stage. The play is in its third year and will be seen at the Grand Opera house Tuesday, September 25.

JEWISH PEOPLE WILL CELEBRATE NEW YEAR

Rosh Hashona, the Jewish New Year, will be celebrated by the Jews of this city, beginning Wednesday, September 19, with services in G. A. R. hall. According to the Jewish calendar, next Wednesday marks the beginning of the year 5667, and the holiday will be observed from Wednesday evening until Friday. Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, will be observed on Saturday, September 29, the date corresponding to the tenth of Tishri on the Jewish calendar. Fasting will mark the observance of a period of about 26 hours, for all Jewish people over 13 years old. During that time no nourishment in the form of food or drink will be taken.

Services will be held next Wednesday night, Thursday afternoon and evening and Friday afternoon.

CITY BRIEFS.

MARRIAGE LICENSE—William Rahin and Miss Ida Hile, aged 48 and 41 years, respectively, both of Evansville, Ind., yesterday secured a marriage license in the county clerk's office.

DIVORCE SUIT—In the county court yesterday, Lizzie Smith brought suit for divorce from George E. Smith, on the grounds of nonsupport. The couple were married in Cheyenne, Wyo., March 2, 1902.

NEW DWELLING—The city water department has just completed a new $1,500 dwelling for the accommodation of Caretaker De Long, at Lake Moraine. The old house was in such a dilapidated condition that it was thought best to build a new one.

SERIOUS CHARGE—Constable Harvey Gillingham yesterday arrested John Dennis on a charge of threats to kill preferred by Frank Olph. Both are miners at the Curtis coal mines, north of the city. Dennis will have a trial before Justice O. R. Dunnington today.

M'GILL ACQUITTED—Dan McGill was yesterday acquitted of a charge of assault in Justice O. R. Dunnington's court, preferred by E. L. Hayes. Hayes charged McGill with pointing a revolver at him, and ordering him away from McGill's place of business.

FINED HEAVILY—Jim Sing was fined $53.05 in police court yesterday morning, on conviction of running an opium joint, while Tom Wing and Thomas Conlon were fined $23.05 each for frequenting the place. In the two latter cases $10 on each fine was remitted. The defendants were arrested in a raid by the police, Thursday night, on Jim Sing's laundry, at 112 South Cascade avenue.

COLORADO FOR STEWART.

THE REPUBLICAN state convention yesterday expressed the will of the Republican voters of Colorado by nominating Philip B. Stewart for Governor. It was distinctly a Stewart convention, the Colorado Springs man receiving 558 votes out of a total of 880. John A. Holmberg, his nearest rival, received 157 votes, and George W. Swink 127, while thirty-eight votes were cast for Governor Jesse McDonald, whose name had not been presented to the convention.

In a speech made to the convention after his nomination Mr. Stewart emphatically reaffirmed the principles on which he will go before the people during the coming campaign. It was on this platform, which was given out several weeks ago in a letter to The Gazette, that he sought and won the nomination, and on it he will win the election. It is a platform which means much to the people of Colorado, for both candidate and party are irrevocably pledged to carry out its provisions. It includes a war of extermination against the pernicious Capitol lobby, the elimination of harmful corporation influence from administrative affairs, the enactment of a law providing for a State Examiner, who will check up the accounts of public officials; a direct primary law, and more complete provision for the care of persons confined in the insane asylums and reformatory institutions of the state.

It is idle to say that a man with the splendid personal and political record of Philip B. Stewart, running on such a platform as this, will not be a strong candidate. At the risk of being accused of undue optimism, we venture the prediction that he will be invincible. The Democrats have placed in the field a candidate whose only claim on the people is a worn-out plea for "vindication," and they have provided him with a platform which contains not a single constructive feature, but is simply a long-drawn-out wail against anything and everything that bears the name Republican. The Republicans "point with pride," the Democrats "view with alarm," and in these two phrases is summed up the essential differences not only between the two platforms, but between the two parties.

Unless the people of Colorado have completely lost their common sense—and there is not the slightest reason to suppose that they have—there can be only one outcome to a contest between these two forces, and that is the triumphant election of Philip B. Stewart and the entire Republican ticket.

SUPREME COURT NOMINEES.

IN NOTHING was the absolute domination of the Democracy by Patterson more apparent than in the nominations made for the Supreme Court bench. Two Democratic judges—that is, judges who were originally elected by Democrats—are to go out of office. Both are men learned in the law, of ability and character, and respected by all the lawyers who have had occasion to appear before them—except Patterson. But Judge Gabbert had sent some of the Big Mitt to jail, and had decided the Moyer case against Patterson; so he was not only refused a renomination, but the Patterson papers have for months been loading him with personal abuse and vilification. Judge Gunter had decided that Patterson was guilty of contempt of the court, and wrote the opinion in that case. Of course, Patterson could not forget or forgive that, and so he, too, was sacrificed. It is clear that the Democrats are bound to have no judge on the supreme bench, if they can help it, except those who will bow to Patterson's will and take their opinions ready made from the office of the News and the Times.

If Patterson had wished to make it plain that he is still backing the Western Federation of Miners, he could not have done it better than by deciding on Judge Seeds as one of his nominees for a place in our highest court. The News of yesterday, with its usual brazen contempt for fact, announced that it was Judge Seeds who ordered in the Cripple Creek district the disturbance [illegible] be repeated [illegible] people who read the News [illegible] may get after awhile so they can't tell [illegible] anything but whoever knows [illegible] the Western Federation [illegible] knows that so far from [illegible] Judge Seeds was always regarded [illegible] the Federation; and [illegible] his court was of refuge which [illegible] that it finally [illegible] in the militia, Judge Seeds [illegible] the supremacy nor the character [illegible] situation if elected, he is [illegible] against [illegible] talk about [illegible] It would be [illegible] strengthen [illegible] the acquisition of Judge Seeds.

The [illegible] were hoping [illegible] judge [illegible] would bring forward a new issue and thus make [illegible] aggressive campaign but since [illegible] have tried to [illegible] Adams, and have insulted the Supreme Court by the rejection of a man like Judge Gunter and the nomination of a man like Judge Seeds, it will be impossible to keep the Western Federation out of the campaign. Patterson is making it as clear as he can, that if he can accomplish it, all that has been done in the past three years to drive out that gang of anarchists, and all that has been done to secure honest elections in Denver, shall be undone. He is never happy when peace and prosperity prevail; he is never happier than when there is a state of civil war and a reign of terror; with a subservient Supreme Court, with a Governor who would be like a rag doll in his hands, and with a legislature which took its directions from him, he could soon plunge the state into a condition almost bad enough to suit even him.

THE REST OF THE TICKET.

TWO YEARS ago there were reasons why the interest of the campaign was centered on the Vice-Presidency. The other offices were hardly mentioned; the whole fight was on the one place, and the Democrats sacrificed everything else to the possibility of electing Adams. This year it ought not to be so, for the conditions are different.

To begin with, this is a Congressional year, and each voter may cast a ballot for two Representatives in Congress—a privilege voters have in very few states in the Union, and only possible here because the state has not been redistricted since its increase in population entitled it to an extra Representative. The indorsement of the President and his policies is an issue, and an important one, and should affect the vote for members of the legislature, as well as the vote for Congressmen.

Again, there is no such issue between the candidates for Governor as there was two years ago. Mr. Stewart is a comparatively new man before the people. He has no record in public office for the Democrats to denounce, as they denounced Governor Peabody. To be sure, Mr. Adams is supposed to be running for a vindication, but that is a stale issue, in face of the new conditions and of a new candidate against him, and he will not make much headway by making his vindication his strongest claim to the suffrages of the people. He can not expect all the other candidates on the Democratic ticket to immolate themselves at his shrine, as they did two years ago, nor can he expect Democratic judges of election to scratch ballots by wholesale for him, as they did in Denver two years ago.

Then there are other important offices to be filled. The Governor, although because of his appointing power he holds the most important office, is not "the whole works" at the Capitol—not by any means. He is ex officio a member of several boards, which control the conduct of various departments and institutions; but on these boards he has but one vote, and the majority can control at any time (there may be any difference of opinion). All the other offices on the state ticket are important, and the incumbent of each is supreme in his own department, and some of them have just as much power as the Governor on the boards of which they are members. For instance, four of them are ex officio members of the Board of Equalization; three of them are members of the Board of Land Commissioners—one of the most important departments in the state government; and so on through the list. So the other candidates are by no means of small importance. If the Democrats try to make an issue on the respective personalities and qualifications of Mr. Adams and Mr. Stewart, Republicans need not shirk the issue for a second, but the campaign should not and can not be confined within such narrow lines.

It is well that Commander Colwell has explained that he landed troops at Havana on the express request of President Palma, and that they were landed, not for the purpose of interfering in the Cuban trouble, but merely for the protection of the persons and property of American citizens in Havana. The people of this country don't want to have to intervene in Cuba to restore order—they would much rather the Cubans should do it themselves.

Now the Stratton estate inheritance tax is to go to the Supreme Court, and it will take months to get ready for it and many more to get it decided. It will be decided finally, however, and the state will probably get more out of it in the end on account of the delay.

So Mr. Bryan "declines to enter into a personal controversy" with Mr. Roger Sullivan? Well, well—we sort o' had an idea that the entrance was already made.

LUMBER WILL BE CHEAPER.

From the Boulder Daily Camera.

For twenty-five years the saw mills of Colorado can saw all the common lumber Colorado and several states can absorb. Prices of stumpage have not gone up and the lumber can be delivered at any railroad point in northern Colorado at fine profit to the manufacturer at $15 a thousand. That prices rule higher is due to the fact that there is a lumber trust which aims to hold the people up for all it can gouge them for. Lumber will be cheaper in another year.

LIEUT. PIKE'S DIARY

For One Hundred Years Ago Today

Monday, 15th, September.—Marched at seven o'clock, passed a very large Kansas encampment vacated, which had been occupied last summer, proceeded on to the dividing ridge between the waters of the White river and the Kansas. Halted at one o'clock very much against the inclination of my guide, who, from the running of the buffaloes, conceived a party of the Kansas to be near. Distance advanced, eighteen miles. Killed two buffaloes.

From the Verdigrise river our course had lain over gravelly hills and a prairie country, but well watered by the branches of the Verdigrise and White or Grand river. From the dividing ridge which parts those streams, to the source of the latter, there is very little timber. The grass is short, the prairies rich and dry; from the head of White river over the dividing ridge between that and the eastern branch of the Kansas river the land is high and dry, and exhibits many appearances of high ore, and on the western side some spa springs. Here the country is very deficient of water.

TOO MANY FADS IN SCHOOL.

From the Indianapolis News.

There are too many attachments to our schools—indeed, it has come to pass that they are schools and something more. They should be simply schools. At least social distractions should be kept out of them. Parents, often at large expense, send their children away to boarding school that they may have time for their studies and be freed from the demands of society. But we are making our high schools social institutions. This we think is a tendency that should be checked.

GOVERNOR GLENN ON LYNCHING.

From the Washington Star.

Governor Glenn of North Carolina is determined that in future the presence of a military company on the scene of a threatened lynching shall mean something. The cartridges shall carry balls, and the men who carry the guns shall have authority to use them. No more marching up the hill and then down again, with no impression made on the mob but that of contempt for the state's troops. The Salisbury episode disgusted the governor quite as much as it did anybody else, and he has been instructed by it. In future, when the troops appear the mob which challenges them will do so at its peril.

The warning which the governor issues to citizens against mob formations goes to the root of much of the trouble. Men who have no sympathy with mob law, and would never think of abetting lynchers, sometimes offend by their bare presence on the scene. They crowd up to see what is going on, without a thought of aiding, and in that way encourage the lynchers, who may be few in number, and discourage the officers of the law, who in the excitement of the defense are unable to distinguish between the lynchers and the onlookers. A sheriff and a dozen deputies might well believe that he was confronting a hundred men, when not more than thirty were lawlessly seeking his prisoner. He sees an active lyncher in every form before him.

With the information that in future the military will shoot, this warning by Governor Glenn should have a good effect. The idle and the curious will hesitate about forming a background for law-breakers, who, reduced to their actual number, will not look so formidable to either the civil or the military authorities. And once assure the state's troops that only the guilty are before them and all hesitation about firing should cease. The lyncher has no claims to consideration, and when he can be popped over without imperiling the life of a bystander it is likely to be done.

Meanwhile the country will expect to hear further from Salisbury about the recent lynching there. The conviction and sentence of the man Hall for his part deserved the praise widely sounded, but the good work should not stop with him. As an ex-convict he was an easy mark. He must have had a good deal of help, and probably from men of standing in the community, but who on that occasion lowered themselves to his level. Some of them should be sent to the penitentiary to keep him company.

STRICTLY NON-PROOF.

The Antiseptic Baby and the Prophylactic Pup
Were playing in the garden when the Hunny gamboled up:
They looked upon the creature with a loathing undisguised—
It wasn't Disinfected and it wasn't Sterilized.

They said it was a Microbe and a Hotbed of Disease,
They steamed it in a vapor of a thousand-odd degrees;
They froze it in a freezer that was cold as banished hope,
And washed it in permanganate with carbolated soap.

In sulphurated hydrogen they steeped its wiggly ears,
They trimmed its frisky whiskers with a pair of hard-boiled shears;
They donned their rubber mittens and they took it by the hand,
And decided it a member of the Fumigated Band.

There's not a Micrococcus in the garden where they play,
They swim in pure iodoform a dozen times a day;
And each imbibes his rations from a Hygienic Cup—

The Charge Up Spelling Reform Hill

From Collier's Weekly.

Those persons who had said that there was nothing new for President Roosevelt to accomplish were confounded when on August 24 he announced that all the letters, messages and other documents emanating from the White House thereafter would be spelled in accordance with the recommendations of the simplified spelling board. The president's action at once raised spelling reform from the rank of a subject for academic discussion to that of a burning practical issue. It was received at home with good-humored interest, but it threw the usually sedate people of England into a spasm of horror and rage. The fact that Andrew Carnegie had contributed toward the expenses of the simplified spelling board had implanted a belief in the English mind that the whole scheme was the private fad of an erratic millionaire, and the announcement from Oyster Bay was taken as an impudent Roosevelt-Carnegie assault upon the language. A similar idea seemed to prevail in Paris, where it was gravely said that while Mr. Roosevelt's learning might be accepted seriously at home, "French savants" held the conviction that "none but a board of profoundly erudite university professors can tinker successfully with so sacred a matter as the national spelling-book." The French savants were evidently unaware of the fact that all the president had done was to accept in bulk, without offering a suggestion of his own, the recommendations of a board containing ten university professors, several other educational specialists, and the editors of the principal American dictionaries. To the newspaper humorists of London the whole subject of the nature and history of English words was plainly terra incognita. One of them, who rebuked the president from a height of superior knowledge, shared Mr. Rider Haggard's artless belief that Shakespeare spelled in the fashion now prevailing in England, and added the astonishing bit of information that Shakespeare, Milton, Gladstone and Bright all spelled alike, whence the obvious deduction that it was sacrilege to tinker with the language they had embalmed forever.

It is not yet apparent whether the cause of spelling reform has been advanced or hindered by President Roosevelt's sudden irruption. There is some reason for believing that a movement which involves the displacement of so many old habits and prejudices may make better progress by a quiet "still hunt" than by spectacular displays of fireworks. As far as the present step is concerned it is not long enough to justify either the rage of the conservatives or the joy of the radicals. The so called new spellings accepted by the president on the authority of the simplified spelling board cover nominally three hundred words, but that number gives an altogether misleading idea of the real extent of the advance. In a very large proportion of the cases the forms proposed are already the accepted spellings in America. Such are ardor, arbor, behavior, clamor, clangor, color, demeanor, enamor, endeavor, favor, flavor, honor, humor, labor, neighbor, odor, parlor, rancor, succor, tabor, tenor, tumor, valor, vapor, vigor, [illegible] abridgment, acknowledgment, judgment, [illegible] cyclopedia, checker, chimera, [illegible] civilize, criticize, idolize, legalize, [illegible] uralize, patronize, recognize, dispatch, fagot, wagon, era, [illegible], draft, bark, bun, check, deposit, fantasy, hock, homonym, defense, offense, pretense, license, brazen, brazier, licorice, meter, mold, mullen, phenomenon, pajama, raze, vizor, and woolen. Others, like anesthesia, antitoxin, artizan, bur, caliber, chilter, center, cue, dram, dulness, epaulet, gage, gelatin, hiccup, install, maneuver, molder, niter, partizan, subpena and theater, are so familiar that the sight of them gives no body a shock. The old poetical ending of "t" instead of "ed" for the past and past participle of verbs ending in "ss," "sh" or "p" is restored, as "crost," "distrest" and "washt." Silent terminations in "gh," "ne" and "me" are dropped wherever possible, giving such [illegible] "catalog" and "program." Aside from these classes only a few words among the reformed three hundred are unfamiliar to American eyes. Adz, fantasy, paraffin, serum, sulf, and sulfur also [illegible] the list.

If the proposed reform stopped here its influence would be of the news paper sort in recognition of English literature in the style of Artemus Ward. It would look that [illegible] of verisimilitude essential to true humor. But the disquieting feature with the situation of the conservatives is the fact that the movement may be regarded as a mere beginning. The Simplified Spelling board expected to add new words from time to time, and the president pledged to accept them all as they come. Hence the fear that before we realize our fatal error we may find ourselves fairly launched upon a slow slangwhip. President Roosevelt is credited with the belief that, with its anomalies of spelling pruned away, English may supersede French as the language of diplomacy, as well as find its way smoothly toward the position of the universal language of commerce. Unfortunately, the very thing that is expected to promote the spread of English into new fields may cripple it in its present ones, for if America embarks unreservedly upon the policy of spelling reform and England refuses to keep step, we may find written, if not spoken, English, divided into two dialects. Considering the stubbornness with which writers and publishers in England have resisted such small and obviously desirable reforms as the use of "favor" and "honor," against which there was never any argument, but only an unreasoning prejudice, the prospect o' their early acceptance of a scheme of wholesale change seems rather remote, even though it be favored by the body of English philological authority, headed by Professor Skeat and Dr. Murray, the editor of the Oxford Dictionary.

In this country the president's action started a ball market for spelling reform. Mr. Stillings, the public printer, expressed his delight at the new policy, and promised to carry it throughout the government printing office to the extent of his authority. The indications are that the great bulk of the government printing will soon appear in reformed spelling. Many newspapers and periodicals have applied to the Simplified Spelling board for copies of the model list for the use of their editors, contributors and proofreaders. Some railroads and other corporations have indicated their intention to adopt the revised spelling in their correspondence and literature. It has been found that business men and trade papers receive the change with hospitality. President Roosevelt has made it reasonably certain that some forms of words which seem strange to us will be familiar to the future Americans, however they may affect the coming generations of Englishmen.

PRESIDENT IS AN ENTHUSIAST

COMPLIMENTS SPORTSMANSHIP OF GERMANS IN PRESENTING CUP TO WINNER OF RACE.

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 14.—President Roosevelt placed himself on record today as an enthusiastic supporter of amateur sports. He also took occasion to weld a new link of friendship between the United States and Germany.

He did this by making the official presentation of the Roosevelt cup to the American Yacht club, the trophy which was won by the yacht Vim of that club during the recent international races off Marblehead, in which several German boats competed.

The presentation was made on board the president's flagship, the Mayflower, anchored in the entrance to Oyster bay. After the presentation which was witnessed by a dozen representatives of the yachting fraternity, including several members of the German crews and members of the cabinet, an elaborate luncheon was served on board the little cruiser.

In presenting the cup the president said that he wished to give his most hearty indorsement to amateur sports of all kinds. Otherwise he remarked he would not be participating in the function and the trophy would not bear his name. The president next commended the sportsmanship of the Germans. They had, he said, demonstrated that they could withstand the supreme test of sportsmen; they could lose gracefully. While the president congratulated the winning club most heartily, he said there was a note of regret in his indorsement because the Germans had lost. However, he felt great satisfaction that the yachts which had come across the ocean for the race had been in "winnings" (referring to the one won by a German yacht).

Speaking more seriously, the president said there was a side to the races just run and to the function taking place which meant far more to the German and American nations than the winning of the cup; that in the sportsmanship of the two nations was being developed a fraternal feeling which was most desirable for the welfare of both countries.

The cup was presented at the conclusion of the speech.

"Well, I don't know either," said Lord Kelvin. He said the whole of his life, though he had studied hard through fifty years of experimental investigation, he could not help feeling that he knew no more than he knew when he began.

right is the supreme law of the land, and furnishes me with the right and the means of fulfilling the obligation that I am under to protect American interests. The information at hand shows that the social bonds throughout the island have been so relaxed that life, property and individual liberty are no longer safe. I have received authentic information of injury to and destruction of American property. It is in my judgment imperative for the peace of Cuba, that there shall be immediate cessation of hostilities, and some arrangement which will secure the permanent pacification of the island.

I am sending to Havana the secretary of war, Mr. Taft, and the assistant secretary of state, Mr. Bacon, as the special representatives of the government who will render such aid as is possible toward these ends.

I desire in this way to communicate with Cuban government and with the Cuban people and accordingly I am sending you a copy of this letter to be presented to President Palma and have also directed its immediate publication.

Sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—With the principals at Oyster Bay and only agents in Washington, it is difficult tonight to secure any explanation of the sudden decision of the president to dispatch Secretaries Taft and Bacon to Cuba, as announced from Oyster Bay. Predicated entirely on the course of the administration's treatment of the Cuban question in its earlier phases and having in mind especially the policy inaugurated by Secretary Root towards Santo Domingo soon after he assumed office, it is the common belief here that his purpose to secure from absolutely dependable sources information that will establish clearly the fact that President Palma does or does not in his administration represent a majority of the Cuban people. From the San Domingo precedent when President Morales was forced to sustain himself or sink, the administration is believed to be determined to allow the majority of the Cuban people to prevail in the government of the island. The Teller amendment, declaring for the independence of Cuba as read in connection with the Platt amendment, is understood in official circles to warrant this construction of the proper attitude of the United States government in the present Cuban crisis.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Having done everything in the way of preparation for eventualities in Cuba which prudence and experience could suggest, the officials in Washington who are temporarily acting as heads of the military branches of the government today, did nothing more than await developments and watch the execution of the plans they had formed.

There was no cessation on the account of the activities of the subordinate officials who were charged with the execution of the details of the plans. Within a short time an effective fleet of eight naval vessels will surround the island of Cuba and they will be well manned by marine contingents.

In addition to the Denver, now at Havana, the DesMoines is enroute from Florida, the Marietta is probably at Cienfuegos, the Dixie is making all haste from Guantanamo for the Cuban capital, while the Tacoma is about to sail for Cuba from Norfolk, to be followed tomorrow by the Cleveland and the Newark at the same port and the Minneapolis at League island is taking on stores with all speed.

Meanwhile the marine corps is in perfect readiness and expects to be able to place 2,000 marines on board ship at a few hours' notice, most of the men now being at League island and Norfolk.

"DRY" TOWNS IN NEW YORK STATE.

The local option clause of the New York liquor tax law apply to 983 towns. The law went into effect on March 23, 1896. At that time there were 283 "dry" towns in the state. The number gradually declined until January 1, 1900, when it was 262. On January 1, 1901, it was 276, on May 1, 1902, 285, on May 1, 1903, 284, and on May 1, 1908, 283—exactly the same number as at the time of the adoption of the present liquor law.

FORGED CHECKS

THREE LOCAL MERCHANTS VICTIMIZED — POLICE LOOKING FOR "P. J. COLEMAN."

Three worthless checks for $12 each were passed almost simultaneously on three merchants in various parts of this city last Saturday, and the police have been working on the case, although without success thus far.

The worthless paper was passed on Druggist A. R. Paris, 322 North Tejon street, Grocerymen C. W. Friedline, 329 East Pike's Peak avenue, and C. W. Robertson, 208 South Tejon street. All were on the El Paso National bank, and were signed "P. J. Coleman."

From descriptions given by the victimized merchants, it is thought that the checks were passed by a man and his wife. Friedline reported that a woman had given him the bogus check, while Paris and Robertson were bunoed by a man.

The man is described as being of medium height and build, smooth shaven, and dressed in dark clothes. Friedline is unable to give a detailed description of the woman, and it is thought probable that he may be mistaken, and that the same man passed all three checks.

There is no account to the credit of P. J. Coleman in the El Paso National bank. Owing to the absence of all clews, it is feared that the unknown Coleman has left the city.

Fifty Years a Blacksmith.

Hixburg, adjoining the famous Appomattox, where the gallant Lee surrendered to the famous Grant, is the home of Samuel R. Worley, now eighty-five years of age, and actively engaged in horseshoeing, who often relates how he shod horses of Unionists and Confederates from 1860 to 1865, making the shoes and fitting them. Mr. Worley says: "I have been shoeing horses for more than fifty years, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm has given me great relief from lame back and rheumatism, which advancing years and hard work brought, and it is the best liniment I ever used." When troubled with rheumatic pains or soreness of the muscles give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by all druggists.

WOMAN'S CLUB

FIRST GENARAL MEETING TO BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON—IMPORTANT BUSINESS

The first general meeting of the Woman's club of Colorado Springs will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Grace church parish house on East Pike's Peak avenue. In the introductory business session delegates and alternates will be selected to attend the state convention at Pueblo, and reports will be received from the delegates in attendance at the national convention at St. Paul, Minn.

There will be addresses by the president, Mrs. E. A. Sawyer, and Mrs. F. A. Mueller, chairman of the art and literature department, under whose auspices the meeting is held. An especial feature of the day will be the presentation by Mrs. F. W. Goddard of a handsome flag which will hereafter decorate the room.

A social hour will then be enjoyed while tea is served. A two weeks' courtesy ticket will be issued to visitors if they will apply to the doorkeeper. Membership tickets and year books may be had from the treasurer, Mrs. Pyles, by arriving at the meeting early.

CENTENNIAL CHORUS

FURTHER ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR EXERCISES ATTENDING UNVEILING OF MONUMENT.

As the result of a trip of inspection to the monument in Antlers park, yesterday morning, it was decided that the chorus of 1,000 voices, with the Midland band, shall be placed directly east of the monument, facing the west, and that a stand will be erected for the director, Rubin Goldmark. The space reserved for the musicians will be patrolled by a squad of United States soldiers. The inspection of the grounds was made by Mr. Goldmark, Henry Russell Wray and several members of the music committee.

Another indication of the amount of advertising that the railroads are doing for the Centennial was received yesterday, when the Burlington road issued a special folder, containing besides reading matter on the Centennial articles about Colorado Springs, Manitou and Pike's Peak. It is an attractive booklet, and will undoubtedly do a large amount of advertising for Colorado Springs and the Centennial.

MANY PROMINENT MEN INVITED TO BIG CELEBRATION

SPECIAL INVITATIONS SENT TO HUNDREDS OF LEADERS IN PUBLIC LIFE OF NATION

Almost every man of prominence in the United States has been invited to attend the Pike's Peak celebration. While a number of these have accepted the invitations and will be present as speakers during the celebration, many, because of important business matters and for various reasons, have found it impossible to do so. Many of these, good as they are, in paying Colorado Springs a compliment and regretting that they are unable to participate in the celebration.

These invitations have been sent out by J. A. Hayes, a member of the invitation committee, of which he is the chairman. Whom all have been answered, as they probably will be, he will have one of the finest autograph collections of any man in the west. He will present the letters to the public library.

Following are some of the most prominent men from whom regrets have been received: President Theodore Roosevelt, Admiral Dewey, John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Secretary C. J. Bonaparte of the navy, Secretary James Wilson, of agriculture; Senator William P. Frye, of Maine, president pro tempore of the senate, Senators J. C. Burrows, Michigan; C. A. Grosvenor, Ohio; J. F. Dryden, New Jersey, president of the Prudential Life Insurance company; W. B. Allison, Iowa; William Warner, Missouri; J. H. Millard, Nebraska; Chauncey Depew, New York; Isidor Rayner, Maryland; Reed Smoot, Utah; Redfield Proctor, Vermont; Henry Cabot Lodge, Massachusetts; Congressmen William Randolph Hearst, New York; C. E. Littlefield, Maine; Sereno E. Payne, New York; Champ Clark, Missouri, and Robert R. Hitt, Illinois; Brigadier General Ainsworth, assistant secretary of war; Chief Justice O. W. Holmes, G. M. Perkins, of the New York Life Insurance company; Paul Morton, George Foster Peabody, New York, and a former partner of General William J. Palmer of this city; General Crozier, chief of the ordnance department; Governors Fred M. Warner, Michigan; Henry Roberts, Connecticut; Joseph G. Folk, Missouri; Governor Pennypacker, Pennsylvania; John H. Mickey, Nebraska; Jefferson Davis, Arkansas; J. K. Toole, Montana; J. C. W. Beckham, Kentucky; George C. Pardee, California; W. L. Douglas, Massachusetts; E. T. Jeffery, president of the D. & R. G.; John A. Sleicher, Leslie's Weekly; Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton university; Stuyvesant Fish, New York; Lawrence O. Murray, assistant secretary of the department of commerce and labor.

VANATTA MANAGER OF CLASS PLAY

Jean Vanatta was yesterday elected manager of the senior class play which the class of '07 of the High school will give. "The Climbers," which was chosen by the play committee for the annual senior class play, has met the approval of the High school authorities. It is probable that the "Climbers" will be given in the first week if nothing prevents. Mrs. William Barber has been secured to coach the play and she will select her cast next Tuesday.

RECEPTION TO NEW COLLEGE STUDENTS

A reception to new students at Colorado college will be given in Coburn library this evening, at 8 o'clock, by the Christian associations of the college. All members of the faculty, board of trustees and alumni, as well as all Colorado college students, are invited. Those who will be in the receiving line are President Slocum, Miss Ruth Loomis, C. A. Hedblom, president of the college Y. M. C. A.; Miss Julia Faith Skinner, president of the college Y. W. C. A., and H. E. Ewing, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

HENDERSON TO HAVE A HEARING TODAY

Chief of Police Alex Adams yesterday swore out a complaint in Justice W. N. Ruby's court, charging Harry Henderson with larceny from the person. The prisoner will probably have a preliminary hearing at 2 o'clock today.

Henderson is the Denver man who was arrested Thursday afternoon on the west side after an exciting chase by numerous passengers and the train crew of an eastbound Manitou street car. He is charged with stealing a pocketbook from Alfred Glossop.

IS CHARGED WITH BEATING BOARD BILL

Benjamin F. Myers was arrested in this city yesterday afternoon by Officers Patt and Neff on request of the Pueblo authorities, charged with beating a board bill. According to the prisoner's story the proprietor of a Pueblo rooming house declined the tender of $5 for a night's lodging and breakfast, demanding $8 for the accommodations. Myers decided to pay this amount and left for this city, being arrested the following day. A Pueblo officer will arrive for the prisoner today.

Special songs and talks will be given. On Monday night the goods donated will be sold and the proceeds given to the Harvest Festival fund. The public is invited to these services.

Services will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Ensign and Mrs. Ewell will be assisted by Captains Schofield and Captain Hilson.

ALMOST FINISHED

PORTLAND CYANIDE MILL AND GOLDEN CYCLE PLANT NEARLY COMPLETED

The new $75,000 cyanide mill being constructed by the Portland Gold Mining company, will be completed about November 1, according to present calculations. The plant will handle the tailings of the present mill, and, although it will greatly increase the output of the mill property, will not increase its capacity. The mill handles from 300 to 400 tons per day, while the new cyanide plant will treat 300 tons daily.

The remodeled Telluride plant, now known as the Golden Cycle mill, will be completed about December 1. The payroll of Colorado City and West Colorado Springs will thus be increased by about $10,000 per month, since the new mills will give employment to 200 men.

After the failure of the General Metals company, owning the Telluride mill, the Golden Cycle company purchased the plant. The bromine process had been used, but was a failure, and the Golden Cycle company is installing the cyanide process under the direction of Philip Argall, a Denver mining expert. The work of remodeling the plant and the additions thereto, involve practically the same expenditure necessary for a new mill, and the improvements will cost approximately $200,000.

MRS. BUSSEY ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. James P. Bussey, 21 North Spruce street, pleasantly entertained a number of her friends last night at her home. The parlor was prettily decorated with purple and white sweet peas. In the dining room, the decorations were of mountain-ash berries and foliage, and red and white sweet peas. Coffee, sandwiches, salads, ices and wafers were served. The following were present: Mrs. Dank, Miss Wilbur Worthing, Mrs. Hazlette Worthing, Mrs. William Sole, Miss Louise Everhart, Mrs. Williams, Miss Winifred Williams, Mrs. Antoine Lieberman, Miss Helen Lieberman, Miss Margaret Lieberman, Mrs. John Arthur, Miss Ortha Arthur, Mrs. Allen R. SOUND LOOM OF FARM HORSE.

Goodbye to Dobbin, the faithful and sturdy old farm horse, writes David Beecroft in Technical World Magazine. No longer will "the plowman homeward plod his weary way." Instead he will simply turn on the second speed of his agricultural motor car and go dashing up the lane to the farm house at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

In the early months of 1902 what proved to be the first successful gasoline agricultural motor appeared, contesting at nearly all of the great agricultural competitions of the season in England, and carrying off the gold medals from the horses in every contest.

Plowing proved to be the first phase of farm labor to which the agricultural motor was introduced, and at which, four years ago, it made its initial reputation. Steam engines had proven too heavy for the soft land being plowed, and here the agriculturist expected to utilize the internal combustion motor, but he signally failed. In a plowing test among horses, steam power and the gasoline motor, two and three-quarter acres of very heavy clay land were selected. It was a condition that the furrows were to be nine inches wide, and six inches deep. In doing the work nine horses, three to a plow, with a driver and three boys, did the work at a total cost of $6.8 or at the rate of $2.52 per acre. By steam power the total cost of plowing the same area amounted to a total of $9.6, or at $3.60 per acre. Three-quarters of the gasoline motor the cost totaled $7.65, or at $2.87 per acre. For plowing purposes, a three-furrow plow is invariably used except in heavy clay soils where a couple of furrows prove sufficient.

SHE IS AN OCEAN TROTTER.

Miss Grace M. Vancor, who is now in New York, has crossed the Atlantic twenty-nine times as the agent of an English diamond concern, and on each trip she has carried with her gems valued at $150,000 to $200,000. Miss Vancor is said to be an expert lapidarist. She has traveled in all the principal cities of this country, Canada and Europe as the representative of her firm. She speaks four languages and incidentally carries a revolver, which, should occasion require, could also "speak."

BOY'S HEAD ONE SOLID SORE

Hair All Came Out and Very Much—Under Doctor Five Months and No Better—Permanently Cured at Expense of $2.

CUTICURA REMEDIES WORK WONDERS

Mr. A. C. Barnett, proprietor of a general store in Avard, Oklahoma, tells in the following grateful letter how Cuticura cured him and his son of terrible eczemas:

"My little boy had eczema. His head was one solid sore, all over his scalp; his hair all came out and he suffered very much. I had a physician treat him, but at the end of three months he was no better. I remembered that the Cuticura Remedies had cured me, and after giving him two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, according to directions, and using Cuticura Soap and Ointment on him daily, his eczema left him, his hair grew again, and neither he nor myself have had any eczema since.

As to his own case, Mr. Barnett says: "I suffered with eczema, a burning, itching, breaking out on my face for more than a year. I took treatment from physicians for several months, which did me no good. I was then advised to try Cuticura. I took six bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and used Cuticura Soap and Ointment freely every day. I began to improve soon after starting to use them, and when I had taken the six bottles of the Resolvent my face had become clear, I had good color, and all eruptions had left me.

"We use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment in our family now for general use, and it keeps our skin soft and healthy. I cheerfully recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all cases of eczema. (Signed) A. C. Barnett, Avard, Oklahoma, Mar. 30, 1905."

Complete Eczema and Internal Skin and Blood Treatment, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, Internally and Externally, now for sale by all druggists and dealers throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

STEWART IS CHOSEN

lized. Mr. Holland's address nominating Mr. Stewart was as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Ladies and Gentlemen of the Convention:

The Republicans of El Paso county bring greetings to the Republicans of Colorado in convention assembled and bid you be of good cheer, for joy cometh in the morning of November 6.

You may have heard that El Paso county has a candidate for the highest honor within the gift of this convention, and I rise to confirm the report.

Time prevents of all to mention each and every good quality of our candidate, but I may say he is a native son of Colorado, and a scion of one of our pioneer families.

He devoted his early years to educational work.

Exercising the good judgment for which he is noted, he made from his home his fortune, a business man of experience, he is a wise counselor and a true friend.

He is a constitutionalist and not a destructionist.

He is progressive and conservative.

There is nothing but rich, red American blood in his veins, and he belongs to no silk-stocking aristocracy.

He is a plain American citizen—a Coloradoan full of life and vigor, both mentally and physically. Born by lice sweat and tanned by her winds, he has climbed her mountains and traversed her streams. He loves the out of doors, he loves his state, is in sympathy with her people and has an abiding confidence in her future.

He is a Republican of Republicans, now, henceforth and forever more, world without end. He comes from Colorado Springs and his name is Phil Stewart. He is old fashioned enough to believe in common honesty in politics. He believes that party pledges should be made only to be kept, and holds that a party recreant to its trust will ultimately receive at the hands of the people the condemnation which its insincerity and duplicity merit and invoke.

The Republican party in this year of our Lord is pledging itself, if retained in power, to give to the people of Colorado some much needed legislation, which all agree is demanded as conserving the best interests of our beloved commonwealth. My candidate is in sympathy with these proposed reforms. Enact those laws, and I pledge you their enforcement both in letter and in spirit, with the Hon. Philip B. Stewart in the executive chair. Not only this, ladies and gentlemen, but insofar as the power and the influence of the executive can be, reasonably and justifiably used, insofar I pledge you its use to assist in writing into the statutes of this state the reformatory and constructive legislation to which you have pledged yourselves and the party in the platform adopted. These declarations on my part are not idle words, mere claptrap in a political convention but I stake my honor upon their absolute sincerity, because I know my man.

A clear and wholesome stream cannot issue from a polluted fountain, and so, first of all, the professional lobbyist must be robbed of his vicious employment. We need the intervention of no political brokers, no matter from whom they come nor what interests they represent; and to the faithful endeavor to eradicate the evil which has been a shame and a reproach in our fair state, I here and now pledge my candidate.

I pledge him also to the enforcement of antitrust laws, aiming to prevent combinations in restraint of trade which stifle the development of our resources, increase the cost of living and benefit only those personally interested. They are un-American, and therefore un-Republican.

I pledge him further to honestly and vigorously use every power of the executive to prevent rebates, special privileges, concessions and all unjust discrimination on the part of common carriers. We are a common people, and the rights of the peanut vender are as sacred under our institutions as those of the millionaire.

He favors the enactment of a primary election law which will enable each voter to express at the polls his individual choice in the selection of party candidates from United States senator down to coroner.

He favors a close inspection of the various departments and state institutions to the end that they may be wisely and economically managed in the interest of the whole people.

I present you a candidate who is a man among men, honest and fearless and self-reliant. I care not what may have been said of what may be said to the contrary in the public prints and elsewhere, he comes to this convention with clean hands. He is the candidate of no man, of no corporation and of no faction. He has made no pledges, directly or indirectly, and he will make no pledges, now or hereafter, except the pledge to administer the affairs of the office to the best of those capabilities with which God has endowed him.

He will wage an energetic campaign, and win to the support of the Republican cause all those not blindly wedded to the party, who stand for clean methods in politics, and who have confidence in the future glory and grandeur of our state. He will lead us to certain victory in November, and plant the triumphant banner of Republicanism upon the dome of our capitol.

I feel therefore have the pleasure and the distinguished honor to present to this convention as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, the Hon. Philip B. Stewart.

Mr. Stewart's name met with long-continued applause.

James C. Starkweather of Denver nominated the platform and began by saying that a peculiar crisis now confronted the Republican party of Colorado. "If the Republican party wants success at this time it must do something for the common people," he said. Mr. Starkweather told the convention that since the days of Lincoln, the Republican party had always hitched to the wagon of the people.

Holmberg Mentioned.

Corporations had won the service of Republican leaders all over the country and the Republicans of the nation under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt were determined to throw off that domination. "Here in Colorado," he said, "we have been most bitterly cursed by this condition and we must break away," he said. Mr. Starkweather declared the convention must nominate a candidate for governor who was in no way connected with corporations. At this point he began a review of the record of John A. Holmberg without mentioning his name, but great cheering followed. Later when he made the point he came the ordeal cheered madly.

A short speech of six minutes for Senator Patterson followed the cheering continued.

[illegible] I want to take this opportunity to tell you just what I promised in relating to this honor you have conferred on me today. I am told that Mr. Holland, in his speech placing my name before the convention, pledged me to certain things, and said that I would stand by them if I became governor. As I understand it, every one of the qualifications made by the delegate who was so kind as to nominate me are for the very best interests of the state of Colorado and its people. You can count on me to do all in my power to put them into practice.

I believe the state capitol should be freed from bad influences, and it will be. I do not think it necessary for me to enumerate to you the reforms which I think [illegible] at this time to the people of the state. They are specifically stated in the platform and they will be carried out. I am quite sure I have a full realization of the responsibilities of the office of governor, and if it be the will of the people of this state that I assume those responsibilities, you can rely on it that I will do so without pledge or commitment of any kind to anyone.

I have not been asked to make any pledges, or to commit myself in any manner, and I want to assure you that I would positively refuse to accept this nomination had I been asked to do so. The people of the state of Colorado can rely upon a square, fair deal for everybody. The laws of the commonwealth will be enforced without fear or favor.

The chairman of the committee on resolutions offered the report on the platform, which was read and adopted. It follows:

The Platform.

The Republican party of Colorado in convention assembled hereby reaffirms its allegiance to the national organization and its adherence to the principles of the national party as promulgated in its successive platforms.

We heartily indorse the patriotic and fearless administration of President Roosevelt. We rejoice with all other Republicans that the chief of our party enjoys the unlimited confidence of the American people and that his brilliant and effective statesmanship has won the admiration and respect of the whole civilized world.

We commend the Republicans of the national congress for the unprecedented amount of wise and wholesome legislation accomplished at the last session. It made a record for constructive legislation unsurpassed by any former session of the American congress. Among the laws passed by this congress which will stand as monuments to the progressiveness and effectiveness of Republican statesmanship, are those authorizing the Panama canal, railway regulation, meat inspection, consular reform, joint statehood and laws relating to naturalization and immigration, pure food, free alcohol for use in the arts and employers' liability.

We commend most heartily our three representatives in congress—Franklin E. Brooks, Robert W. Bonynge and H. M. Hogg, for the part they took in enacting these reforms and the party hereby commends and thanks them for their splendid services to the state and nation.

A continuation of the present phenomenal prosperity of our country depends upon the protective tariff and the general confidence inspired by a continuation of the sound policy and principles of the Republican party in national legislation. As a practical illustration of the benefits of the protective system we point with profound satisfaction to the enormous development of the beet sugar industry in this state.

To enable the president to carry out effectively the various measures which he has inaugurated, it is necessary that the present Republican organization in congress be maintained. The president has so declared in most emphatic terms in his open letter to Representative Watson, and we call upon all citizens who believe in Roosevelt to aid in returning three Republican representatives to the national congress and in selecting a legislature which will return a Republican United States senator, and we demand that the nominees of the various Republican senatorial and representative conventions throughout the state participate in and be bound by a Republican legislative caucus and vote for the nominee of such Republican legislative caucus for United States senator.

Organization Essential.

We believe that organized labor and organized capital are essential to our industrial growth and are productive of much good when they operate within the law and with just regards for the rights of others. Both labor and capital must depend for the protection of their interests and the securing of their desires upon the fairness of their conduct and the merit of their cause. We pledge our party to the principles here stated as a rule of party conduct within and without the legislative body.

Since last we met in convention, the state and the nation have sustained a deep and irreparable loss in the death of our brilliant leader, Edward O. Wolcott. We bow in submission to the Divine will. We will ever cherish him in our memory, and his many high and honorable qualities will always continue to incite our emulation.

We commend heartily the administration of Gov. McDonald and his Republican colleagues in office. Efficiency and economy have marked the work of every department of the state government, and have made it a striking contrast to the inefficiency and extravagance and actual criminality prevailing in the last three Democratic administrations. The laws have been enforced with vigor and effectiveness, the revenue of the state has been collected and savings have been effected, which together will make it possible to pay off the deficiency of the Thomas Democratic administration of 1899 and 1900, and place the state in better financial condition than ever before.

Unexampled Prosperity.

The numerous assassinations, assaults, invasions of personal and property rights, and the general reign of terror which prevailed in our mining regions three years ago, were the direct outgrowth of socialistic and anarchistic sentiments fostered and encouraged by the present supreme executive and other leaders of the Democratic party in this state, for the purpose of influencing the labor vote. The conditions then existing called for the exercise of the most drastic government powers for the defense of our institutions and the restoration of law and order. Such powers were exercised by a Republican administration under the natural and constitutional rights of necessary self-defense, which belongs to governments as well as to individuals. Time has fully demonstrated the wisdom of the policy pursued. The extermination of anarchy and the restoration of law and order have been followed by two years of profound industrial peace, during which period the people of the state have enjoyed unexampled prosperity in every department of industry. A return to power of the Democratic party under the undisputed leadership of Senator Patterson, the man who more than all others, was responsible for the anarchy, now happily suppressed, would necessarily mean a return of the same conditions which led to a state of insurrection and the loss of many lives and millions of property. Such a calamity can be averted only by the election in November of the Republican ticket.

Into the Election Thievery.

The infamous election thievery practiced by the Democratic party in the Denver elections has been supplemented by the leaders and legislators of that party by a series of outrageous usurpations of power and wanton disregard of every consideration of decency and right. Crimes at the polls have been followed by crimes in the legislature. The same Democratic election outrages which sent shafroth to congress and returned him to Colorado were used by the Democratic leaders and legislators to send Henry M. Teller to the United States senate. In order to make this crime effective, two Republican senators, McDonald and Dick, were arbitrarily without contest or hearing thrown out of the state senate with the full approval of Senators Teller and Patterson, Alva Adams and other Democratic leaders, who were present in the senate when the crime was committed.

In 1899 the Democratic majority in the state assembly arbitrarily threw out five Republican representatives and a senator from Pueblo county. These men were honestly elected and were rejected for partisan reasons without the slightest consideration of justice or right. In 1901 the Democratic legislature again fraudulently and illegally unseated Republican members who were honestly elected.

The people of the whole state, Democrats and Republicans, are to be congratulated upon the suppression of the stupendous election frauds in Denver. In the last election, in 1904, as was conclusively proved by the legislative investigation that ensued, every effort was made by every possible method to count in the Democratic candidate for governor. No less than 21 different kinds of fraud were disclosed by the investigation. False and fictitious registration, the appointment of alleged Republicans as judges of election, who were active partisans of Adams, repeating on a wholesale scale, and worst of all, the substitution of thousands of fictitious ballots prepared in advance by some "Jim the Penman" for the real ballots cast by the voters—these were some of the methods that swelled the fraudulent vote of Alva Adams for governor some 15,000 votes beyond those honestly cast for him and gave him an alleged majority on the face of the returns to which he was not entitled. This was only the culmination of a long series of outrages. As was recently said by a prominent Democratic leader, "the offices the Democratic party has stolen from the Republican party have been of infinitely more importance than any governorship."

Supreme Court Commended.

The action of the supreme court in sending some fifty of these ballot box stuffers to jail for contempt, the action of the legislature in throwing out the precincts in which fraud was so apparent that no discrimination was possible between the votes fraudulently cast and the votes properly cast and the action of the district attorney indicting and convicting some of those who were guilty of the crimes against the franchise, are hereby commended and indorsed. The enactment of a new registration law by the last legislature after the just punishment of the offenders against the law in the last election has given assurances to the voters of the state that hereafter their votes will count and will not be overbalanced by a fictitious Democratic majority concocted in the slums of Denver.

We condemn the outrageous and scandalous attacks made for political purposes upon the judiciary of the state and especially the supreme court by Democratic organs and in Democratic platforms. Reverence for the law and respect for the courts are inherent qualities of all good citizens. In the nature of things, it must sometimes be more difficult for the average layman to understand fully the reasons for judicial decision than for those learned in the law. It is this fact that enables the indecent demagogue to play upon the feelings and prejudices of the masses. We denounce the person who seeks to undermine the confidence of the people in their courts as a traitor to good government and an enemy to society. We recall with satisfaction that the supreme court of the state has maintained its dignity by bringing to its bar and punishing as a contemner in the person of a Democratic United States senator. We express the hope that the precedent thus established by the supreme court may be followed by all courts as to such persons. We call attention to the fact that the natural Democratic contempt for courts and the determination of the Democratic party to have for judges only such as will be subservient tools has been demonstrated by their sacrifice of Judge Goddard, because of his decision in the eight-hour law case, by their rejection of Judge Gunter because of his decision in the Patterson contempt case, and by their brutal attacks upon the supreme court, because of decisions which had forever ended wholesale election robbery in the city and county of Denver and restored to the citizens thereof their political independence.

The Republican party's past performance is the best guarantee of its present promises. The Democratic party may try to fight over old battles if it will, but we are facing the future. The Republican party has not only given the state a faithful and efficient administration of public affairs, but it suggests and will put into effect measures still further to improve the public service along conservative but progressive lines.

Reforms Favored.

We recommend the enactment of a law governing the railway corporations of the state along the lines of the national rate law and the establishment of a railway commission elected by the people for the enforcement of the same.

We favor a measure which will provide for the expression by the people of their preference for candidates for the United States senate.

We recommend the enactment by the legislature of an antitrust law, which will prohibit combinations in restraint of trade, and we would suggest for the consideration of the legislature the provisions of the Ohio antitrust law, which has recently been sustained by the courts.

The practice of permitting lobbyists to haunt the state capitol and the legislative halls is undignified and vicious, and the next legislature should enact such measures as will do away with this pernicious custom. Our present insurance laws are crude, conflicting and incomplete and we pledge our party to revise them along conservative and progressive lines, to the end that greater protection may be afforded the public.

We recommend the enactment of a law which will provide a uniform system of accounting for public offices and the creation of a state examiner under whose direction all public offices handling public funds, and all state banks, savings banks, trust companies and loan associations may be frequently examined, and the result of such examination published giving the condition of such offices or institutions and the business methods employed therein.

We recommend the enactment of a state law which will supplement the recent national pure food legislation in order more completely to protect the public from the evils of adulteration.

Pledge Local Option.

We pledge our candidates to the enactment of a local option law which will insure to the people the removal or establishment of saloons in the residence districts.

We pledge our legislative candidates to the abolishment of the present mileage expense in connection with the state institutions, sheriffs, constables and other state and court officials.

We realize that the time has arrived for Colorado, to fall into line with other progressive states and legislate for the building of good roads.

We believe that the employes of our institutions for the care of the delinquent and insane, should be removed from the domain of partisan politics and that these institutions should be kept in the care of competent experts appointed and retained without regard to partisan consideration. Legislation should be enacted providing for a better care of the insane wards of the state and an enlargement of the state asylum sufficient to enable proper care to be given to all those who may be entitled in this way to public protection.

We recognize that agriculture has become the leading industry of Colorado, and we pledge our earnest efforts to advance that industry in every way possible, both in the encouragement of agricultural education by the liberal support of our Agricultural college, and the enactment of such laws as will serve to protect and promote the growth of agriculture in Colorado in all its branches.

Believing that these reforms are vital and salutary, that the people will support the Republican party in an honest and earnest effort to carry them out, and that the future prosperity of the state demands the continuance of Republican administration, we confidently commend our cause to the voters of the state.

At the conclusion of the reading of the platform the convention took a recess until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

ELBERT COUNTY FAIR.

September 19 and 20, at Elbert. Special train via Colorado & Southern, on 20th at 2:00 a. m. Round trip rate $1.20 on 18, 19 and 20. Tickets limited to 21st.

KITCHENER GOT THE [illegible].

When Lord Kitchener once makes up his mind about anything it requires a very determined will indeed to turn him from his purpose. On one occasion a difference of opinion had arisen as to the amount of money he might expend on the conveyance of stores to the front. He wanted a couple of thousand pounds for the purpose, but a niggardly pay department at home protested that the estimate was much too high. "Can't do it for less," was the laconic response telegraphed to headquarters in London. This, however, only evoked a reply that he would not be allowed more than a quarter of the sum asked for. To everybody's intense surprise, "K." wired back, "All right," and proceeded to carry out the work he was engaged on. When the expedition was over, however, the treasury department officials were electrified to receive from its organizer a bill reading as follows: "First, in conveyance of military stores, as per estimate, £800; secondly, to supplementary expenses, £1,000."

DANISH TABLE MANNERS.

A pretty table observance in Danish families is for children, even little ones who can scarcely toddle, to go gravely after dinner to salute their parents and say "Tak for mad" ("Thanks for the meal"). Even visitors shake hands with their host and hostess and go through the same formality. In German families that hold to tradition the same custom prevails. When the evening meal is ended the party stands up around the table and each member shakes hands with the neighbor saying, "Gesegnete mahlzeit"—blessing the food.

A REAL ONE-MAN ROAD.

Colonel B. G. Gifford, of Jasper county, Indiana, is perhaps the only man in the country who owns a railroad built chiefly for his own use, paid for with his own money and operated independent of the will of any other living man. The road is called the Southern Wabash Valley, is thirty-five miles long and runs through half a dozen or more prosperous villages.

had to give his candidate was that in private and public life he was unfailingly honest. It was useless to deny the existing conditions. All knew of the strained relations that exist in Colorado between capital and labor. His candidate, Mr. George W. Swink, had no record of ever having been connected with any contest of this kind.

"Lincoln of Colorado.

Mr. Stevens said that Mr. Swink had a will of his own and that if elected governor he would not be influenced by lobbyists and that his appointments would be made in the interest of the people and not the corporations. He told the delegates that the agricultural sections would vote almost solidly for Swink. He characterized him the "Lincoln of Colorado."

Tom Johnson of Larimer county, known as the "Cowboy statesman" stirred the convention in an appeal for Swink. George Stidger of Denver seconded Stewart. Delegate Hess from Otero spoke for Swink.

A motion that all seconding speeches be limited to one minute was adopted. For 15 minutes the delegations expressed their views and then a motion that voting proceed was adopted.

The surprise came when Boulder county cast her 32 votes for Governor Jesse H. McDonald, who had not been placed in nomination.

Chairman Stidger of the Denver delegation announced 17 for Holmberg, one for Swink and 171 for Stewart. A delegate from the 14th ward in Denver demanded a poll of the Denver vote. The chairman of the convention ruled that the convention could not go behind the report of the chairman of any delegation. Mr. Stidger arose excitedly and shouted that Denver was ready to poll the whole delegation or any ward but that the vote as announced was correct.

The result of the ballot was: Stewart, 558; Holmberg, 137; Swink, 127; McDonald, 32.

BENNETT WINS SUIT AGAINST DENVER MAN

E. F. Bennett, wholesale manufacturer of nugget jewelry in Colorado Springs, has just received word of the successful outcome of his suit against Lorraine W. Stryeker, of Denver, for alleged infringement on his patent rights. The decision, which was handed down by Judge Robert E. Lewis of the United States district court, also authorizes Mr. Bennett to collect from Stryeker all profits made by the latter's infringement on the patent. Attorney J. E. Sanford, of this city, had charge of the case for Mr. Bennett, who last year won a similar suit against C. L. VanWert of this city.

Mr. Bennett has been manufacturing nugget jewelry in Colorado Springs for the last five years and has built up a considerable business throughout the entire west.

MATINEE BAND CONCERT TODAY

Following is the program for the Midland band concert at North park this afternoon at 3 o'clock:

March, "Farewell, My Annabelle" ... Williams
Selection from "The Storks" ... Chapin
Trombone Solo, "The Old Home Down on the Farm" ... Gorlow
Mr. H. W. Woodford
Overture, "Morning, Noon and Night" ... Suppe
Waltz, "Wedding of the Winds" (By request) ... Hall

INTERMISSION

Selection from "Chimes of Normandy" ... Planquette
Nocturne, "Monastery Bells" (By request) ... Welz
Southern Sketch, "Down South" ... Moldenke

Synopsis—The sketch opens with a quaint dance. The first two movements depict the restless nature of the languid southern darky. The trio introduces a tuneful melody which is hummed by a majority of the band, and the audience, carried away with the drowsy strain, finds itself unconsciously joining with them. "Alabama Jubilee" (By request) ... Thiele

COLORADO CITY

ANOTHER HOLDUP STORY DISCREDITED

Being in the alley between Sixth and Seventh streets, about 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, within a stone's throw of the police station, bleeding from a gash in his head, a man who refused to reveal his identity was found and taken in a dazed condition to headquarters by Officer Bert Webb. At the station he told a very disconnected story, often contradicting himself. At first he said that someone had hit him on the head and then tried to rob him, but at the same time he said he had no money. Later he claimed to have had between $10 and $15. When searched by the officers, he had $1.15, which convinced the police that the man's story was a "fake."

With several offers he had been in the Silver State saloon, at 602 Colorado avenue, and, according to his own story, was "slightly intoxicated" before leaving the saloon. He did not know who struck him. No arrests were made.

BIG BODY LOW GRADE ORE IN RHYOLITE BEACON PROPERTY

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—A tremendous vein of ore assaying $3.20 to the ton throughout its present explored length has been found in Rhyolite mountain by the Rhyolite-Beacon Mines company, and plans are already being laid for its extraction and reduction on a large scale.

Contractors have worked into the crest in ore at this time, with no signs of a wall, and the vein seems to be of the true fissure variety. It is so well thought of by members of the directorate of the company that Mr. E. E. Miller, president and general manager, has gone to Newton Falls, Ohio, to attempt to raise money for the construction of an aerial tram to convey the ore from the mine to the Sioux Falls' mill on Copper mountain (now under lease to the company).

It is calculated that the tram will cost $11,000 a mile, the distance to be traversed being slightly in excess of one mile. It is believed that enough ore can be delivered at the mill by this means to keep the plant busy. It has a capacity of about seventy tons a day.

Mr. Miller is expected to return home by the latter part of the week, when he will disclose the success of his trip. If constructed, the tram will be the first of its kind in the district, and will be intensely interesting as an experiment.

RICHES FOUND BY ACCIDENT

FORCED TO CHANGE COURSE OF WORK, VEIN IS DISCOVERED—IOWA GULCH IS BUSY.

LEADVILLE, Sept. 14.—Iowa gulch is one of the busiest sections of the camp at present, due to the different strikes that have been made in the gulch during the last six weeks. Many mining men consider this part of the district to be one of the richest in the camp, and all that it needs is capital to carry on systematic development work.

The only property where any extensive work has been done is at the Lillian, and this has only been scratched on the surface, as no endeavor has ever been made to develop the resources of the property at the lower strata. Yet the mine, from the upper workings, has produced several million dollars' worth of ore, principally in gold.

On the recent strike in the Lord Byron the ore body has widened out to three feet, running fifty ounces of silver and 29 per cent zinc. It was by a mere chance that the lessees, Arnold and company, found the ore. They sunk the shaft 20 feet, when they were driven out by water. Going up eight feet, they started drifting and had gone 8 feet from the shaft when they opened the present ore shoot in the lime, the same formation as exists in Long and Derry hills. They are now making preparations to sink the shaft deeper.

The Helena is shipping a fair grade of ore from the upper levels and will shortly take the water out and get to the lower workings and open the ore shoot there. The Lou Dillon is drifting for the Helena ore shoot.

During the week the Doris opened a fine body of chloride ore in the upper workings that runs 592 ounces of silver, 54-100 gold and 25 per cent lead per ton. The mine is also shipping iron.

The Bartlett lease is shipping a high grade class of ore, averaging two carloads per week. The Ella Beler, Ready Cash, Lillian and others are all shipping regularly.

SHIPPING REGULARLY FROM GOLD DOLLAR

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—Murray and Ragland, operating a lease on the Gold Dollar on Beacon hill, through the company's main shaft, yesterday shipped a car of $30 ore mined in the bottom level of the property. Several cars were shipped from this lease during August, and it is likely that at least three more will go out during this month. These operators are now engaged in sinking a new shaft on the Mabel M. claim of the Gold Dollar to 600 feet, or approximately water level in that section of the camp. It is then proposed to crosscut through Zoe ground for a body of ore believed to exist. The shaft has been sunk to a depth of 110 feet by Contractor McDonough, who took charge of the work about one month ago.

WILL SINK SHAFT TO LOWER LEVEL

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 13.—The Wabash Mining and Milling company, leasing on the Four Brothers claim of the Agnes company, on Beacon hill, will start today to sink the shaft from the 150-foot point to the 250-foot level. This company has about 18 inches of ore at a depth of 150 feet, and has shipped some ore which has given returns of $25 and $30. The management is of the belief that with greater depth higher values can be secured.

CAR OF ORE RUNS $30 TO $40 TO TON

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—The British-American Mining company, operating on the Dante property on Bull hill, through the Trail tunnel, today shipped out a car of ore that will give returns of from $30 to $40. This company uncovered a splendid body of ore several months ago in the tunnel, but was prevented from mining it on account of bad and muddy ground. The British-American company expects from now on to greatly increase the tonnage.

POCKET ON BURNS CLAIM SHOWS $750 GRADE ORE

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—Fisher and company, operating in the Winkoff shaft on the Burns claim of the Acacia company, have come into a splendid pocket of ore at a depth of 300 feet. Assays have been taken running as high as $750 a ton. The average grade clear across will probably run from five to eight ounces.

UNCOVER GOOD VEIN ON JENNIE SAMPLE

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—James Wynne and a company of Rock Island, Ill., people, who have a lease on a portion of the Jennie Sample property on Raven hill, have uncovered a good vein at a depth of 600 feet. The vein is about three feet wide, and some very satisfactory assays have been secured.

The lessees are of the opinion that they will have to do some more drifting before the values become very good. The Jennie Sample company, on another portion of the property, through the Minnehaha shaft, is having contract work done at a depth of 450 feet.

To cut a big vein now in conflict with the Ophir company adjoining, the Jennie Sample company has yet some 50 feet of crosscutting before the vein will be reached. There is a suit pending in the district court for $200,000 between the Jennie Sample and Ophir companies for ore alleged to have been extracted by the latter company.

GOOD ASSAYS IN CITY OF CRIPPLE

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—Work on the Abe Lincoln vein is being prosecuted by Lessee Joe Roerig and associates, operating in the City of Cripple Creek mine in the block of this city bounded by Fourth and Fifth streets and Bennett and Myers avenues. Forty feet of drifting has been done in the last two weeks, the present rate of progress being four feet a day. An air drill is being employed to cut the drift and values in the vein have been steadily increasing of late. Assays yesterday indicated that pay rock is likely to be encountered before long.

$50 ORE FOUND ON THE ZENOBIA

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—Stark-weather and associates, operating on the Zenobia of the Stratton estate on Bull hill, have recently opened up about 18 inches of ore that is showing values of from $40 to $50 in gold to the ton. This ore body was encountered a short distance from a shallow incline shaft about 50 feet deep. The main shaft on the Zenobia has been sunk to a depth of 500 feet.

TWO TO THREE-OUNCE ORE ON THE WILSON CLAIM

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 14.—Reed and associates, who have a lease on the Wilson claim of the Free Coinage company, have installed machine drills and are breaking ore at a depth of 300 feet, which will run from two to three ounces.

Reed and company expect to be able to get out two cars a week from now on.

STOCK MARKET TAKES A TURN

OPERATIONS ON LONG SIDE OF MARKET RESUMES. EFFECTS TURN FROM DOWNWARD COURSES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Operations on the long side of the stock market were resumed in sufficient volume today to effect a turn from the downward course of prices in progress yesterday. The day's strength was sporty strength at one point contrasting with heaviness at others in the process of maneuvering to take profits. The point trading element was skeptical of the market and put out short lines on the advances. The principal operations centered in the coalers, especially Reading. Much of the activity in that stock was attributed to a long standing pool. The increase in cash for the week was estimated to be in the neighborhood of $15,000,000. The subtreasury operations include the payments of recent gold engagements abroad, except today's payment of $1,500,000, which brings the total payments on gold account for one week up to $19,650,000. But receipts of revenue payments and for telegraphic transfer to interior points and other routine subtreasury operations leave the payments by that institution to the banks at only $15,029,000.

There is a small offset to this gain in the movement on balance by express to the interior which is estimated at but a few hundred thousand dollars, compared with over five million dollars last week. This relaxation in the interior demand for currency contributes much to the promised strength of tomorrow's bank statement. The further advance in the sterling exchange rate today decreased the command by New York on gold in London. Attention was given to a report also of a semi-official statement of the unwillingness of the bank of France to release gold for shipment to New York. A fall in sterling exchange at Berlin today lessened the prospect of gold moving from that center to London which has been canvassed as an indirect method of renewing supplies available to the New York demand. The late flurry in money was attributed to the preparation for some large dividend payments due tomorrow, the principal of which is the $6,000,000 payable to Standard Oil stockholders. This proved a restraint on any sympathetic response to the buoyant upshot in Reading and made an irregular closing.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,065,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

REPORTS SHOW WHEAT SCARCE

SENTIMENT IN PIT IS BULLISH AND TRADINGS GENERALLY DECLINED TO BUYING SIDE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Sentiment in the wheat pit was bullish throughout the day and tradings generally were inclined to the buying side. The selling pressure on the market was not heavy at any time during the day and all offerings were easily absorbed. The heaviest selling was by houses with northwestern connections. The shipments from Argentine were reported as being less than one-fourth of those of last week and one sixth of those for the same time last year. Reports from England were that the Russian area, in which farming prevailed, is increasing. Receipts in the northwest were reported light and are now, from August 1 to date, over 1,700 cars less than for the same period last year. Dispatches from the northwest were to the effect that good wheat is scarce and that there is barely enough to supply the milling demand. In addition to these influences cash wheat was strong 10c at Minneapolis and Kansas City. December wheat opened ⅛@¼c higher at 73, sold between 72⅞@74c and 73½c, and closed at 73½.

The corn market today was dull and prices kept within a narrow range. December opened unchanged at 42⅝, sold between 42⅝@⅞ and closed steady at 42⅝.

There was much realizing today in the oats market and prices were somewhat depressed. Trading was not heavy. December oats opened ⅛@¼ higher at 32⅞@33, sold between 32⅞ and 33, and closed steady at 32⅞@⅞.

The provision market was strong and active for the greater part of the day and the list was higher throughout. At the close January pork was up 12½ at 13.05. Lard was up 2½ at 7.75. Ribs were 5 higher at 7.02½.

BABY'S VOICE
Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. Hundreds and thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $1.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless value to all women sent free. Address BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.
